Transco Files Application For New Stations

Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corporation has filed an application with the Federal Power Commission for a certificate to build 9.5 miles of 20-inch gathering lateral and two gathering and meter regulating stations offshore Texas. The proposed pipeline will gather and transport gas purchased from Texaco Inc. from Blocks 538 and 541 fields, Brazos-Area, about 100 miles south of Houston. These facilities are estimated to cost about $3.4 million.

Transco and Texaco announced the signing of contracts committing the gas from these fields to Transco on May 7, 1971. Transco previously had received a certificate to construct 54 miles of 30-inch and 34 miles of 20-inch line which will be used to transport the gas ashore to Transco's main line.

Transco estimates the facilities will be completed and gas will be moving through the pipeline from the Block 538 Field by November 1, 1971, and Texaco expects to be delivering gas from the Block 541 Field before January 1, 1972.
